

Our Shared past with the Air Force

The RAAF Association in Australia is as old as the Air Force. Its origins lie in ex-WW1 veterans who served in the Australian Flying Corps (AFC) and wanted to keep in touch and provide assistance to their colleagues and their families when needed.

The Victorian AFC Association was the first association to form in 1920. Other state based AFC Associations quickly followed. With the establishment of the RAAF and the large number of RAAF members needing support after World War 2, the Associations evolved into either RAAF Association or Air Force Associations with the continued aim of supporting ex-members and their families. The South Australian Association formed in 1930 and has continued to serve ex-Air Force members and their families ever since in South Australia.

RAAF Association South Australia

Our Mission

We are here to support the welfare of the Air Force family through Advocacy, Assistance, Camaraderie and Commemoration

Committed to our Air Force veterans and their families

Who we are

The RAAF Association is the peak veterans support organisation for RAAF and ex-RAAF members and their families in Australia. As the peak body, RAAFA is recognized by Government and other veterans organisations as the representative organisation for ex-RAAF members, with a primary goal of providing assistance to fellow members.

It is a federation of seven separate Divisions, one in each state and the ACT. The federation has a governing Board of the Air Force Association. As one of the oldest veteran support organisations, the RAAFA has been influential in advocating for ex-RAAF members' needs resulting from service in World War 1, World War 2, post war Southeast Asia, peacekeeping operations and in more recent years, the high operational tempo of today's modern Air Force.

In South Australia, the RAAFA SA Division comprises five branches committed to supporting the welfare of current and ex-serving RAAF members and their families and ensuring their legacy of their service for generations to come.

With a Headquarters branch based at Torrens Parade Ground, the RAAFA SA is uniquely positioned to interact with other veterans organisations, advocate the South Australian Government and coordinate Air Force ceremonies at the Air Force Memorial located adjacent to the Torrens Parade Ground Drill Hall.

There are three suburban based branches:

- Elizabeth / Salisbury
- Ubon
- Mitcham

What we do

1. Advocacy

At the Federal and State Government levels, we provide an authoritative and influential voice in representing ex-Air Force members' needs on veterans issues. We work with our national Board, state and federal veterans authorities and other veterans support organisations in ensuring the needs and interests of those who have served in the Air Force and their families are met. We also assist Air Force veterans in interpreting veteran policy and entitlements supporting them in their development of compensation claims and appeals.

2. Commemoration and Heritage

Recognising the importance of commemorating the deeds of those who have served before and fostering the legacy they have left for generations to come, we partner with RAAF Edinburgh and other stakeholders in conducting Air Force specific ceremonies, the preservation of Air Force heritage and educating South Australians on the Air Force story and South Australia's contribution to that story.

Committed to our Air Force veterans and their families

3. Assistance

We appreciate ex-serving members and their families of various ages will require assistance and support at times and can be there for them when needed.

4. Camaraderie

We hold various events, functions and activities across Adelaide providing avenues for our broader Air Force family to remain connected. While these activities are popular with our aged members, we also place much importance on bringing our younger veterans together with our older members to share stories, support each other, provide mentorship and foster values.

Our Priorities

- To provide advocacy in partnership with the broader veterans support community
- To provide better representation and support for the Air Force Family
- To gain recognition as a respected, effective and leading ESO
- That South Australia has a better understanding of the Air Force story and the state's contribution to that story

We recognise the Air Force Family comprises those who have served or are serving in the Air Force and their respective family members.
